

INSTITUTO CAMÕES, I.P. STUDENTSHIP IN PORTUGUESE (with a Teaching Fellowship)

The Faculty of Medieval and Modern Languages wish to offer a full studentship for an individual to study for a DPhil in the field of Portuguese Studies. The studentship will cover full university and college fees, and a maintenance grant in line with AHRC rates (currently £14,057 per annum).

The award will be granted in conjunction with a Teaching Fellowship. Under this fellowship, the individual will be expected to give an average of up to 6 hours of teaching in each week of term and participate in other Sub-Faculty activities (further details of the teaching fellowship are available below). If the teaching fellowship ceases, the studentship will also cease.

Applicants must be native speakers of European Portuguese and possess a good honours degree in any combination involving Portuguese Studies (if applying for the MPhil), or a good Masters' degree (if applying for the DPhil). They must also have a good command of English.

Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their interest in the post and their teaching experience, an academic writing sample, an outline of their research proposal and a CV as well as the names and contact details of three references to sandra.beaumont@mod-langs.ox.ac.uk.

For informal inquiries, please contact phillip.rothwell@mod-langs.ox.ac.uk

Applications must be submitted by 5pm Monday 16 May 2016

Teaching Fellowship Duties:

1. To give classes in the written and oral use of European Portuguese at undergraduate level (from complete beginners to an advanced level) up to a maximum average of 6 hours in each week of term.
2. To regularly set, mark and grade students' work during the academic year.
3. To provide reports on attendance and progress for tutors as required.

4. To take part as an assessor or additional examiner in oral examinations (for which separate payment will be made).
5. To participate in the Sub-Faculty's one-week pre-session course, taking place in September each year.
6. To participate in the Sub-Faculty's one-day intensive Portuguese language course once a year.
7. To carry out administrative duties in the Sub-Faculty/Portuguese Centre as required.
